Futures

Providing a proven, ready-to-launch solution, enabling Children & Young People (CYP) Social Prescribing services to mobilise within just 3-4 months.

PROBLEM

Many young people in England face complex social, emotional and behavioral challenges that traditional healthcare services cannot fully address. These issues can lead to poor mental health outcomes, increased risk of substance abuse and limited educational and employment opportunities.

SOLUTION

CYP social prescribing services offer a promising approach to tackling these challenges. By connecting young people with a range of community-based activities and support networks, these services can help them develop coping mechanisms, build resilience and improve their overall wellbeing.
